Art Unit: 1775

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 8,16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 depends on itself rendering the above claims indefinite.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4,8,10-12,16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rolander et al (6,007,909).

Rolander et al discloses the claimed coating with the claimed thickness and stress (column 3, lines 56-67) on the claimed tool containing tungsten carbide and the claimed proportion of cobalt (claim 6).

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 5-7,9,13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cutler (5,952,102) and Oskarsson (6,228,139).

Cutler discloses the claimed diamond coating with the claimed thickness (column 3, line 2) and stress (column 2, line 65) on a carbide tool. Cutler does not disclose the claimed tungsten carbide tool with the claimed cobalt content and grain size.

Oskarsson discloses the claimed tungsten carbide substrate with the claimed cobalt content and grain size.

Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the on the substrate of Oskarsson the claimed diamond coating of Cutler as these coatings are known in the tool art to provide improved performance of tungsten carbide tools.
